

1 in 8

Canadian jobs are in ag and agri-food

 Agri-food
more than ever

Source: An Overview of the Canadian Agriculture and Agri-Food System 2014 (AAFC)

Find your future in agriculture

Considering your career path?
Consider a career in ag. There are more opportunities, and more things you can do, than you might realize.

2.1 million

Ag employs over 2.1 million Canadians.

38%

From 2011-2020 it's projected that 38% of jobs in the Canadian ag industry will be unfilled, creating opportunities in a variety of fields.

 1 in 8 Canadian jobs are in ag and agri-food.

In 2013, there were more than 56,000 career opportunities available in the ag industry in North America.

56,000 career opportunities

August 2014

BY 2022, THERE WILL BE AN ESTIMATED 74,000 JOB OPPORTUNITIES IN CANADIAN AGRICULTURE.

Created April 2015

Canadian Occupational Projection Summaries (2013-2022)

Do you know someone who is still weighing their career options or looking for a change? If so, take the opportunity to let them know that Canadian agriculture offers more opportunities and more things to do than they might realize!

Canada's agriculture industry has far more jobs than people to fill them: that spells opportunity for workers across the country! Employers are looking for energetic, enthusiastic people who want to learn & grow with this dynamic industry.

Canadian agriculture has never been more important to Canada or the world: there are so many ways to be part of it, both on the farm and off. Hundreds of occupations directly contribute to agriculture! Opportunities in fields like manufacturing, research, education, finance, trade, retail & more!

The career opportunities in Canadian agriculture are incredibly diverse, and so are the opportunities to train for those careers. That means, if you can imagine a career in agriculture, you'll probably find the training you need to land the job close to home.

The impact of agriculture on Canada's economy, communities and families is truly remarkable; so spread the word! Encourage young people to build a career in agriculture. Visit AgricultureMoreThanEver.ca for more resources and facts.